CARDEN ACADEMY OF MAUI

Who was Mae Carden and what is “The Carden Method?”

“The basic purpose of the school is to awaken in each student, the desire to learn and to equip him with a solid foundation of learning skills and basic knowledge which will enable him to reach logical conclusions and to proceed with confidence through a lifetime of learning.” -Mae Carden

Mae Carden (1894-1977) was one of the brilliant educators of the twentieth century. She was born in Hawaii where she began her own elementary school education. It was during these early years that she found that her teachers did not explain the lessons completely to their students. So, young Mae Carden would take her classmates home after school and teach them herself. Her amazing organizational talents surfaced at this young age when she began categorizing words which eventually led to her own pitch based phonemic program.

Miss Carden graduated from Vassar College in 1918 and continued her studies in Europe focusing on art and music. Inspired by the art masters and great composers of Europe, Miss Carden returned to the United States set on becoming a music teacher and attended Columbia University for her post graduate work. She went on to write her own textbooks and manuals and in 1934 opened her own school, which she operated successfully for fifteen years.

In the course of her career, Miss Carden wrote over 400 textbooks and manuals. Because of the many requests for her method from both public and private schools, Miss Carden closed her school in 1949 to devote the rest of her life to training teachers in the techniques and methodology of her unique curriculum. Today there are over 90 Carden schools across the U.S. including one in Hilo, Hawaii which has been in operation for twenty-five years.

In order that the integrity of the Carden Curriculum be preserved, the Carden Educational Foundation was established in 1962. It provides basic and advanced training for teachers and has established an ongoing development program in keeping with current advancements in education.

CARDEN ACADEMY OF MAUI

Dear Parent,

Thank you for your interest in Carden Academy of Maui, the only school on Maui using the Carden curriculum. We currently offer classes for children in Pre-Kindergarten through eighth grade.

Carden Academy offers a classical education using unique tools, approaches, and sequences. The Carden Method is a comprehensive language arts program that integrates phonics, spelling, grammar, reading, and writing using an approach which teaches the sounds and rhythms of the English language. This language arts program, together with the Singapore and Saxon math programs and the Delta/FOSS science program, form the basis of a vital curriculum that emphasizes understanding and comprehension over rote memorization.

In addition to mathematics, science, and language arts, students are instructed in classic literature, foreign language, art, music, drama, dance, and physical education. The natural curiosity, imagination, and love of learning that children express is valued and nurtured. Learning takes place in an atmosphere that is neither condemning nor competitive, an atmosphere that consistently encourages all to do their best.

We are proud of the character education taught at Carden Academy and our goal is to instill in each student a set of values and virtues to guide them through a lifetime. A strong foundation of academic skills, the development of stamina and self-reliance, and the building of character equip the child for lifelong learning – to live what Mae Carden called “Life Triumphant”.

We offer small class sizes that allow us to provide individualized attention and to promote learning in a positive and creative environment. A pleasant, purposeful atmosphere, filled with an appreciation for beauty “awakens children to the realization that learning is a privilege, an answer to an inner need, and a very interesting adventure.”

I realize that there are many options that are available to you as you seek the best placement for you child. I encourage you to contact the school for more information, and to schedule a tour so that you can experience the qualities that make a Carden education unique.

Again, thank you for your interest. If you have any additional questions, please feel free to contact our school office at 573-6651.

Sincerely,

Nina Sato
School Director
